

Can you label this diagram?

Bean pods start to grow where the flowers have been. Inside the pods there are more bean seeds waiting to grow.

Tiny flowers start to grow.

The bean plant starts its life as a seed planted in the soil.

Roots grow down into the ground and a shoot grows up to become a stem. Leaves grow on the stem.

Bean pods start to grow where the flowers have been. Inside the pods there are more bean seeds waiting to grow.

Tiny flowers start to grow.

The bean plant starts its life as a seed planted in the soil.

Roots grow down into the ground and a shoot grows up to become a stem. Leaves grow on the stem.