

Do you search the web often?

Did you know that you can raise money for charity just by using a search engine?

Everyclick.com is a search engine (just like Google) that gives half of the revenue it generates to charity. It's free for you to use and free for the charities.

All you have to do is select your charity, search the web and know that every click will be raising money for your charity!

Each month half of the gross revenue generated by everyclick is paid out to charities. The amount a charity can generate is entirely dependent upon how much its supporters use everyclick.com.

Please make Children Living with Inherited Metabolic Diseases (you must put in Climb's full title) your chosen charity and use it whenever you search the web or shop online. Please give it a go and if you like it pass this message on!

Please consider using this search engine as a way of supporting Climb - Children Living with Inherited Metabolic Diseases.

It will cost you nothing  but it will help others.
